

VICOLO
DEL CAI

A rectangular stone plaque is mounted on a rough stone wall. The plaque is light-colored with dark, carved lettering. It is held in place by three metal brackets: one at the top center and two at the bottom corners. Below the plaque, a dark, rectangular metal post is visible, extending diagonally across the lower part of the frame. The wall itself is composed of irregular, light-colored stones with some small green plants growing in the crevices. Below the plaque, there is a horizontal course of reddish-brown bricks.

